

FIIB EMPLOYABILITY LAB

LEARNING AND DEVELOPMENT

At FIIB the PGDM program enabling students to stay employable throughout their careers, ensuring long-term success is the mission of the program. Towards developing a student to make a successful transition from 'Campus to Corporate', the Center for Learning and Development provides the students with inputs to develop overall employability. In fact, overall employability is an accumulation of curricular, co-curricular and extra-curricular inputs. The curricular courses contribute to knowledge development while the extra-curricular courses enable personality and attitude building; the essential workplace skills are reinforced through experiential work and other course-specific, concentrated modules.
